

JEANNE BREAKS OLYMPIC RECORD

Jeanne Ashworth, US Champion Woman Skater, is on her way home after having broken the Olympic record for 500 meters, during the Olympic trials at Colorado Springs Colorado, last Saturday.

Jeanne skated the distance in the record breaking time of 44.4 seconds, one half of a second better than that established by Helga Hasse of East Germany, in the Winter Olympics of 1960.

Jeanne came in third in the Winter Olympics of four years ago, with Natalia Donchemko of the Soviet Russia taking second place. Jeanne was reported on the front page of the New York Times for her statement, at that time of 'I just had to beat a Russian' - there being many of the Russian women contestants who placed after Jeanne.

Jeanne was named to the 1964 Olympic team, as the result of the Saturday afternoon trials, which took place at an altitude of 10,000 feet.

Janet Smith, of Rochester, NY, named for the 1000 meter distance in the Women's Olympic team, also broke an Olympic record, during the trials.

Miss Smith skated the 1000 meter distance in 1 minute 33.3 seconds, one tenth of a second faster than the record set in 1960 by first place winner Klara Guseva, of the USSR.

Marie Lawler of Minneapolis was named for the 1500 meter distance, and Barbara Lockhart of Chicago was named for the 3000 meter distance.

Miss Lockhart was a member of the 1960 Olympic team, but did not finish in place for a medal.

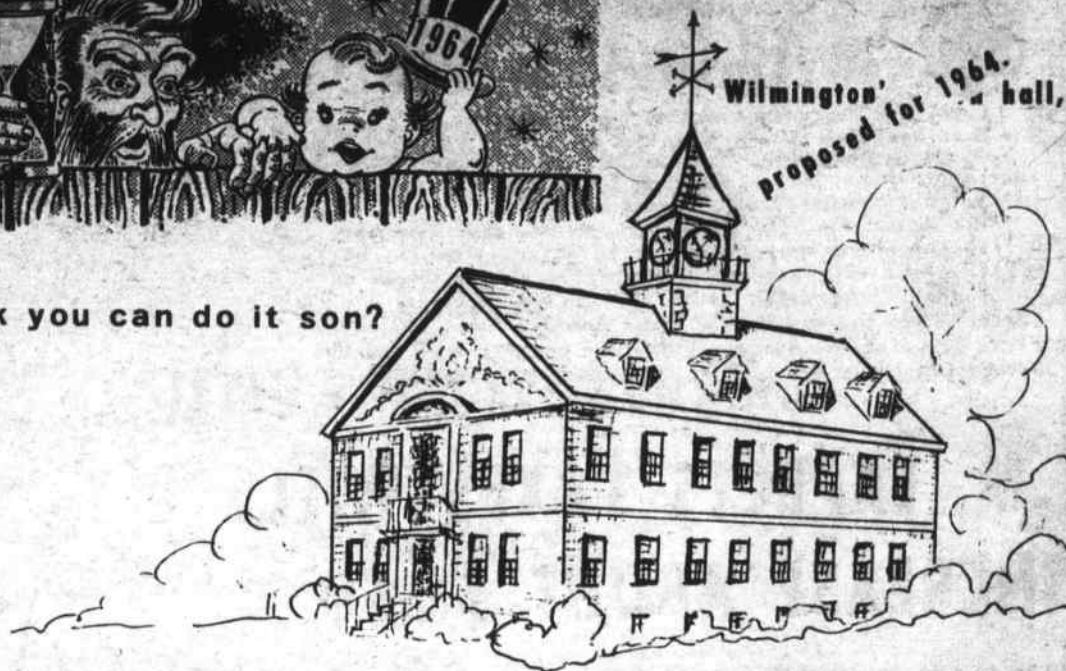

Two newcomers to the world of Speed Skating were also named, the Misses Judy Morrison and Sylvia White, of Butte, Montana.

Jeanne left Colorado Monday morning, and is driving home, in her car. She expects to arrive at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs Raymond Ashworth, of Church Street, today.

She will spend a couple of days at home, and then leave for New

T.M. EXPECTS TAXES WILL INCREASE ABOUT $3.50

The Budget Message of Town Manager Gerald Bouchard, to the Selectmen, for 1964, predicts an increase in taxes for the coming year.

Mr. Bouchard's figures put the increase at about $3.50.

His figures include costs of a sidewalk which the Selectmen propose, from Wilmington Square to High Street, in North Wilmington.

This is the first time in a number of years that such a sidewalk proposal has been openly planned. It is to be submitted as a 'Warrant Article'.

There is also a Warrant Article for a sidewalk on Lowell Street, from West Street, to Woburn St., which possibly may mean that the Selectmen have abandoned their idea of widening Lowell Street at this point.

The Church Street - Middlesex Avenue sidewalk, to High Street, would be built on one side of the street only - and part of this has already been constructed.

Bouchard's figures vary according to whether or not bituminous concrete, or cement concrete, or granite is used for curbstones.

The lowest figure for the Middlesex Avenue-Church Street sidewalk is $13,500 and the highest $31,500.

The Lowell Street sidewalk figures are for $6,075, on either side of the street, using bituminous concrete for the curbing.

Bouchard's estimate includes a figure of $16,800 a year, on a 20 year basis, for a new Town Hall, and he has a figure of $5,000 for improvement of the Town Park.

The Board of Water Commissioners are expected to submit an article for the construction of a new pumping station in the Town Park, and the $5000 is believed to be planned for the shifting of the location of the town baseball field, so that the pumping station and well may be installed according to the specifications of the Massachusetts State Board of Health.

If the article should be voted by the Town Meeting the baseball field will be 'turned' so that home plate will be adjacent to the railroad, and near the old 'Poor Farm Bridge' (at Main Street).

Bouchard also proposes to purchase land adjacent to the Police Station. $1000 is allocated in the budget for this purpose.

Another warrant article will call for the expenditure of $12,000 for a street sweeper.

GREAT HOPES FOR THE GENERAL THERMODYNAMICS TURBINE

The people of Wilmington are not too much aware of the presence of Joe Leto.

But they should know him better and, perhaps, not too far in the future.

A quiet, almost shy man, with a friendly grin, Joe is a graduate of MIT, and has been working for years on the production of a gas powered turbine.

One of two brothers, he owns the General Thermodynamics Company, in North Wilmington, and the Falcon Engineering Company, also located in the same building.

Joe is one of the people in this country who read, with interest, the story of the new Chrysler turbine powered car, now being tested in half a dozen localities.

The turbine in that car, says Joe, should work real well. It has about 200 horsepower, and the colder the weather the easier it will be to start. There should be no vibration, and the fuel costs should be lower than those of a comparable automobile.

In fact, when gas turbines really get going, so that they can be manufactured in mass-production style, they should cost about 25% less than comparable engines of the internal combustion type.

Joe's engine, which he has been developing for some years, is a little bigger than that being tried out by Chrysler - his has about JOE LETO, and his Turbine. The turbine will run on almost anything, from gas to peanut oil.

250 horsepower - ideal for heavier vehicles which will need a smooth steady power source.

It will burn 'almost anything' and Joe is looking forward to the day when he has got the last trial over, and is ready to start production.

The General Thermodynamics

plant has 13 acres of land, not now in use - in other words there is plenty of ground, on which the company can grow, if business really gets good.

Joe is convinced that Gas Turbines are the coming thing, for power, in the USA.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr and Mrs Roger MacDonald, 3 Moore Street, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Helen Kroil MacDonald, to James Savage Jr., son of Mr and Mrs James Savage, Verbena Road, Billerica.

Miss MacDonald is a graduate of Wilmington High School, and is an employee of the MacBick Company of Woburn Street.

Mr Savage is a graduate of Wilmington High School, class of 1960 and was recently hired by the Zayre Stores to be manager of the Photo Department, in Natick.

The couple plan an August first wedding.

WEBTEX EXPECTS GOOD YEAR

Webtex, of Woburn Street, believes that 1964 is going to be a 'good year for business'

The company has, in a sense, been marking time during 1963, while it built new facilities, but it expects to be humming soon.

In the past two years there have been two additions to the plant, a total of about 12,000 square feet, for the manufacture of latex adhesives, and a 5000 foot addition in the shape of a separate building will soon be completed, in which rubber adhesives for the building trade are to be manufactured.

Frank Stevens, president of the company, believes that there will be a lot of business for the new lines, which have been evolved by the company's chemists.

Two top notch chemists are now wholly employed in Research and Development, to keep the firm abreast of developments.

The firm now has about 65,000 feet devoted to manufacture, and employs about 45 people.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR BLANCHE BLANCHETTE

Blanche E. (Vallequette) Blanchette, wife of Albert A. Blanchette of 904 Main Street Wilmington died at her late home last Thursday, December 26th.

A native of Cambridge, she had lived in Wilmington for the past 30 years, and had been associated with her daughter, the late Elaine Curran, in the operation of the Wilmington Bowladrome.

Beside her husband, Albert, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Virginia Belmore of Wilmington, 2 grandchildren and 1 great grandchild, also two sisters, Mrs. Marceline Roy of Lynn and Mrs. Marion Bentley of Barre; and two brothers John Vallequette of Cambridge and Gordon Martin of Pepperell.

The funeral was held from the W S Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home 374 Main Street, Saturday, at 9:15 am, followed by a high mass of requiem, at St Thomas Church, at 10 am., which was celebrated by the Rev. Francis Mackin. Rev. Edmund Croke was seated in the sanctuary.

Burial took place in the family lot in St. John's Cemetery in Cambridge, with Rev. Mackin offering the committal prayers.

Pall bearers for Mrs. Blanchette were Kevin Wynne, Oliver Demers, Frank Simmons and Ralph Fiore.

For the last two days of 1963 the residents of Wilmington woke up to discover that the mercury had dropped Way Way Down in their thermometers.

15 degrees below zero was common throughout the town, at about 6 am Dec 30th. with some places, Concord Street and Sprucewood Road, reporting 24 below.

The temperatures averaged 10 degrees below zero on the morning of the last day of December.

WILMINGTON TOWN LEAGUE BASKETBALL

Saturday a thriller was played at the High School gym, with the Lakers needing three overtime periods to down the Royals.

At the end of their regulation game they were tied, 30 to 30. First overtime was played with several baskets being nullified because of fouls.

The second period ended with the score tied again, 32 to 32!

The third period, which is a Sudden Death period, started. After ten seconds had been played a certain Mr. Ed Harrison stole the ball, put it through the hoop, and gave his team the victory!

Both teams worked hard for the victory, but it can go to only one, and that was the team with Ed.

The Warriors beat the clock to down the Celtics 40 to 38. It was a tight game, all the way, only the Celtics were unable to stop R. Cassello, and his 33 points.

The Pistons, in the last quarter, with Steve Donahue hitting, topped the Knicks 34 to 28. Donahue hit for a total of 23 points, while Flores hooped 11 points for a losing cause this week.

Next Saturday the games are: 1 PM Warriors vs. Royals; 2:30 PM Pistons vs. Lakers; 3:30 PM Celtics vs. Knicks.

December 31, 1963

Dear Mr Neilson:

The Social Action Committee of the Congregational Church wishes to express its sincere thanks to the community and to the Town Crier for its heartfelt welcome to the Jose Romero family.

The family has experienced the true spirit of Christmas through the many gifts and expressions of kindness from Wilmington people.

They have great hopes and expectations for the new year, in their new home, in Wilmington.

Our gratitude goes to the Social Concerns committee of the Methodist Church, to the Wilmington Ford for the car, and to the merchants and business people, and to the people of Wilmington who have made this possible.

Dear Larz:

What an added joy to the Christmas season to have the name of Dudley Buck appear in a recent editorial in the Town Crier. Other than to have a community and school system raise up young men and young women to Dudley's character, a public school named in his honor is one of the greatest tributes Wilmington can pay to his memory.

I'm sure that there are still some in the community who remember his insatiable quest for new truths and his driving desire to have the best teachers and facilities to stimulate the minds and spirits of Wilmington's youth. The time he devoted to both tasks is one of the reasons for his untimely death.

I recently spoke of him in a sermon. Two university students came to me following the service to tell me how much he had meant to them. One was a girl who spoke of the influence he had on her life as a Sunday School teacher in the Wilmington Methodist Church. The other was a boy, who recalled Dudley's spirit of adventure as his Boy Scout leader, and his unbelievable imagination as a story teller.

Those of us who were his peers will always remember him and be inspired by him for his devotion to everyone else but Dudley Buck. A school with his name, inscribed for all to read, and below a quotation of his which is indicative of his courage: 'A man should never want to die, but he should never be afraid to die,' would add to the joy of my visits to a town greatly loved.

Sincerely,
Dick Harding

'ROUND THE CLOCK' WORK BY POLICE SOLVED THE BLAISDELL ROBBERY

Working 'round the clock' from the time the crime was committed, three Wilmington policemen seem to have solved a crime that could be labeled The Case of The Meanest Son.

Sergeant George Shepard and Patrolmen Thomas Brennan and James Palmer went without sleep until the arrests had been made which, according to Chief of Police Paul Lynch, solve the case of the 5 am robbery, last Friday, of Jack Blaisdell of 1 Lowell Street.

Ronald W Blaisdell, 21, of 400 Park Avenue, Revere, son of the victim pleaded innocent to a charge of being an accessory before the fact, on armed assault in a dwelling before Justice Alfred Sartorelli, in Woburn Court, Monday. He was held in $10,000 double surety.

Pleading innocent to charges of armed assault in a dwelling were Ronald G Surette, 25, of Chelsea and William R Shulman, 35, of Dorchester. Surette was held in $10,000 double surety, and Shulman in $20,000 double surety.

The cases of all three men were continued until January 10th and all were taken to East Cambridge jail in lieu of bail.

Jack Blaisdell, owner of the well known Wilmington firm of Blaisdell Oil and Motor Transportation Co. was awakened, in his bed, Friday morning, when one of two bandits flashed a light into his face.

Mrs Sarah Blaisdell, Jack's mother, came into his bedroom while Blaisdell was talking with the gunman, and attempted to wrestle the gun away.

She was stopped by her son, who feared there would be a tragedy.

The two bandits were by their actions, pretty certain of the location of things within the Blaisdell home. They sought the trucking firm payroll, which they believed to be in the family safe, and they knew the location of the safe, which however, had no payroll in it.

The two men had to be satisfied with $11, taken from Blaisdell's clothing.

Police Chief Lynch says he is satisfied that the three men who have been arrested are the persons who planned and committed the robbery.

Sgt Shepard, who came on duty at 8 am Friday morning, at the two patrolmen, who had been on duty since the midnight previous, made the first arrest, in Boston, Saturday afternoon, in company with Boston police.

They arrested young Blaisdell in a Boston bar, and the police say that Blaisdell had on his person an automatic pistol.

Four hours later the Wilmington cops joined with Chelsea police to arrest Surette, in his home.

The last of the trio, Shulman, who wears a beatnik type beard, was arrested in his Dorchester home, by the Wilmington police in company with Dorchester police Sunday. Police say that in Shulman's home they found a 32 caliber revolver, a kit of burglar tools, a walkie talkie radio, and a check-book stolen in the robbery of the Blaisdell home.

According to Police Chief Lynch the robbery was conceived by the young Blaisdell, who no longer lives with his father.

The Christmas Program in Wilmington High School

The annual Christmas Festival of Music in Wilmington High School was presented five times this year, for the benefit of all pupils, and of their parents.

A charming little play, by members of the seventh grade, entitled 'Then All Shall See' portrayed the story of a blind boy, who could see the Christmas Creche only with his hands, and how he had a vision portraying the Nativity scene.

This was after he had accidentally knocked over the Creche and heart broken, while alone, he picks up each piece and traces its outline.

Played by Frank Harrington, he is given a vision of the Nativity Scene, at the end of the play.

The Wonderful High School band, arranged as an orchestra, gave its listeners a preview of some of the wonderful playing that it will be performing next spring, in Groveton, New Hampshire.

What has 1964 in store for Wilmington recreation?

ROBERT COREY, OF DRACUT, HAS PURCHASED THE OLD 'VAN STEENBURG' GRAVEL PIT, IN NORTH WILMINGTON. IT IS AN EYESORE AND A HAZARD, BECAUSE OF THE ACTIONS OF THE SO-CALLED 'GRAVEL MERCHANTS' DURING THE CONSTRUCTION OF INTERSTATE ROUTE 93, AND SINCE THEN THE PITS, WHICH ARE LARGELY WATER FILLED HOLES, HAVE BEEN AN 'ATTRACTIVE NUISANCE' TO THE NEIGHBORHOOD.

GOOD PURE WATER OFFERS FINE SWIMMING, IN CONDITIONS THAT ARE DANGEROUS. ONE TRESPASSER WAS DROWNED, JUST THIS PAST SUMMER.

BOB COREY HOPES TO TRANSFORM THIS AREA INTO AN ATTRACTIVE RECREATION AREA FOR THE PEOPLE OF WILMINGTON AND OF NORTH READING. (THE LAND IS HALF IN WILMINGTON AND HALF IN NORTH READING).

HE HAS ALREADY CLEANED UP A LOT OF DEBRIS, AND HAS DONE SOMETHING TOWARDS THE REDUCTION OF HAZARDS TO SWIMMERS.

HE HAS NOW APPEARED BEFORE THE WILMINGTON BOARD OF APPEALS, HOPING FOR AN OFFICIAL SANCTION OF HIS DESIRES - TO BE ALLOWED TO SET UP A NORTH WILMINGTON RECREATION AREA WHICH WILL BE LEGAL IN ITS EXISTENCE, AND IN WHICH SUCH THINGS AS SAFETY AND FAMILY LIFE WILL BE PREDOMINANT.

THE WATER IS FINE: But swimming is dangerous in the old Van Steensburg gravel pit. Sudden changes in depth - rocks - and no supervision by lifeguards endanger these trespassers.

Recreation areas - Future needs

A few years ago a commission was set up by President Eisenhower to study the needs of the country with relation to recreation.

The commission found that the parks and recreational areas of the country were mostly situated in places that were far from the centers of population, so far as to afford little use to the people.

The commission further found that in some areas of the eastern part of the country the need for recreational areas was 'tragic'.

Here in Massachusetts, Frank Cande, of the US Department of Agriculture, a member of the Middlesex County Soil Conservation District, has said, in an official statement that ten years from now the people of Massachusetts will be looking for areas for recreation. The fast spreading metropolitan areas are ruining many of the places which are at this time adaptable for this use.

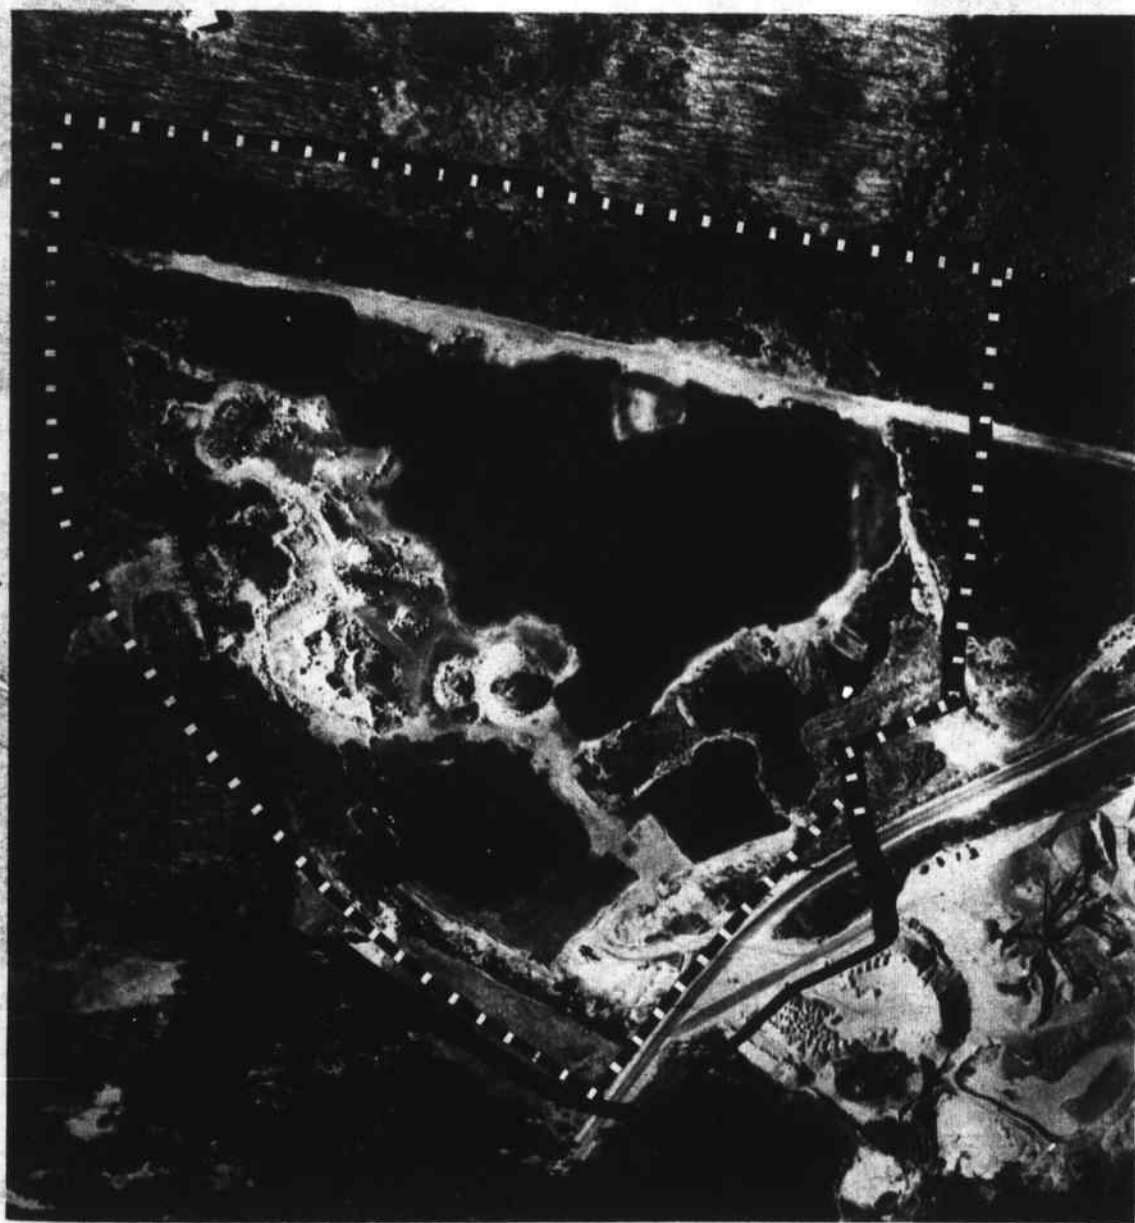

Mr. Cande has wholly approved of the proposed North Wilmington Recreation Area. In his opinion, the old gravel pits, if properly cleaned up, maintained and operated, will be one of the best sites in north eastern Massachusetts for wholesome family recreation.

Who is Bob Corey?

Bob Corey is one of four Lowell brothers who have built up not one but four businesses for themselves in the past dozen years or so.

Bob is vice president of all four firms - The Corey Steeplejacks, The Corey Brothers Realty Company, the Corey Building Wrecking Company, and the Atlantic Crane Company, which, incidentally, owns the largest cranes in New England.

Bob, who is 33 years old, is an enthusiast for work. He and his brothers have earned reputations for reliability and integrity, for themselves, and their companies.

AN AERIAL VIEW OF THE PROPOSED NORTH WILMINGTON RECREATION AREA - ENCLOSED BY WHITE DOTTED LINE. Bob Corey wants to make this into a place for swimming, boating and fishing, and family picnics. Salem Street, No. Wilmington curves in the lower part of the photograph. The old abandoned Salem-Lowell Railroad cuts across the upper half.

AND HOPES THAT THEY WILL BE HIS GUESTS

LOCAL PASTOR TO PREACH JANUARY SERIES ON THE ECUMENICAL MOVEMENT

The Reverend Robert Ernest Sanders, pastor of the Congregational Church, in Wilmington, (United Church of Christ), will be preaching a series of sermons on the modern ecumenical movement during the month of January, 1964.

Mr. Sanders is a member of the Committee on Christian Unity of the Massachusetts Congregational Christian Conference (UCC) and of the same committee of the Massachusetts Council of Churches. He attended the Fourth World Conference on Faith and Order (World Council of Churches) in Montreal last summer. He also attended the Sixth General Assembly of the National Council of Churches in Philadelphia last month.

With his good friend, the Reverend Father Paul Berube of Saint Thomas Parish, Wilmington, he has attended several of the Dialogue meetings in Boston at the Paulist Information Center on Park Street. He has been a student of Ecumenical writings and activities since the formation of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam in 1948.

The January sermon series will deal only with the 'inner' dimensions of ecumenicity in relation to world cultures and other living religions. The January series, dealing only with the former, will touch upon the Biblical foundations of Christian unity, the history of the modern phase of ecumenical development from 1910 through the last meeting of the World Council of Churches in New Delhi in 1962 and of the II Vatican Council in Rome in 1963, and its meaning for the local church and the individual Christian.

Mr. Sanders has said before that the biggest obstacle to an accurate assessment of the movement toward unity is the lack of a factual understanding of the many ecumenical events taking place.

They do not mean that the respective Christian traditions and churches are about to renege, or enter, one hierarchical church order or government! The form a united Christendom may take in an unpredictable future is entirely in God's hands, and all sincere and informed ecumenists understand and accept this fact. They do mean, however, that the unity of Christendom already exists as the one Body of the one indivisible Lord, Jesus Christ. And the present divisions within that Body are wounds in the side of Christ, still bleeding.

So the Churches, and the Christians in them, stand in the midst of a tension of judgement and grace with presses upon them as an imperative to mutual understanding and mutual love. We move, by the leading of the Holy Spirit, not toward uniformity, but toward full union in some form.

LARGEST ORDERS FOR PHOTON IN 1963

Photon, one of the newer concerns in Wilmington, received in December its largest order in its history.

The manufacturer of the Photon photographic typesetting machine has announced that it has received an $800,000 order from Perry Publications Inc and a $1,250,000 contract with the S I Newhouse Press Supply Company.

The two contracts total 37 new Photons, and this constitutes, with out any doubt, the largest order ever given for electronic type setting equipment, according to Photon.

The machines that go to Perry will fill the last gap in the computerized typesetting system which was started early this year by the West Palm Beach (Florida) company, which, among other things publishes the West Palm Beach Post-Times.

The 20 Photons for the Newhouse Supply Company are to be used by the Newhouse chain of newspapers, a nation-wide chain.

Two Newhouse newspapers, the Newark Star-Ledger and the Portland Oregonian, have been operating Photon machines for a number of years, according to Kurtz M Hanson, Photon president.

The delivery of these Photons in 1964 will mean that the Wilmington company will be putting as many machines into service in one year as it has in the previous decade, and constitutes a definite up-swing in its production.

The Photon type-setting machine, which retails for about $60,000 produces its type on a photographic film.

The key to the machine is a disc on which each of the characters are imaged. The disk spins between a flashing light and a sheet of film. When a particular letter is called for, the light flashes just when the desired letter is lined up with the film, and at the same time one of 12 lenses has been lined up between the disk and the film, to produce the letter in the desired size. After development the film is used to prepare offset masters, for the printing job, or else to make negatives for engraving.

The Photon machine automatically sets and justifies type, in a matter of moments, which, if it were produced by conventional methods, would take much longer.

Photon is also producing a new automatic type setter, announced last summer, called the ZIP, which will set 500 characters per second. The first ZIP is to be delivered next summer to the National Library of Medicine, which is a part of the US Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The ZIP will cost about $200,000. It will produce, in 47 seconds all the type needed for a page needed in a full 8 1/2 by 11 inch page.

A second ZIP machine has been scheduled to go to the Western Electric Company next summer, for the preparation of the New York City telephone books.

Western Electric's parent company, the American Telephone and Telegraph, has signed an option to purchase 19 more ZIP machines, if the first one comes up to expectations.

THE MACBICK COMPANY HAD GOOD REASONS TO LOCATE IN WILMINGTON

The MacBick Company, manufacturer of hospital equipment, will have a new address Monday morning - Woburn Street, Wilmington.

There are five good reasons for moving to Wilmington says Daniel 'Gus' Cronin, president of the Mac Bick company.

The first of them is a gentleman named Frank Stevens, of the Web-tex Company, next door to the new location of MacBick.

sibility to Routes 93 and 128, and thus to Boston and other parts of the country. Cronin rated this as a very strong reason for locating in Wilmington.

Fifthly the Wilmington tax stability was one of the compelling reasons for the company's move.

Cronin does not deceive himself that there will be no increase in taxes in Wilmington, but he feels that the town is well managed, and that there is more of a guarantee

THE NEW MACBICK HOME: On Woburn Street, to be opened for business next Monday. It occupies 14,400 square feet, and cost about $100,000 to construct.

Mr Stevens is one of the owners of Webtex, and the man who built the building that MacBick will occupy for at least the next 110 years.
Stevens, according to Cronin, is an ideal type of landlord, a fine man whose word is his bond. It was he who first turned the attention of the MacBick company to Wilmington.

The second reason why the company is moving is the co-operation it received from Wilmington Town Hall. From the moment the company first considered moving to Wilmington there has been nothing to complain about, as far as the Wilmington officials are concerned
Mr Cronin says.

A third reason is the place where the employees live - right in this section of Middlesex County. It counted strongly in the company's decision - with employees living in Reading, Tewksbury and Burl-inton, for the most part. Wilmington was handiest, for the help, and the company, which is employee owned, thought much of this point.

The fourth reason is the accesin stability in Wilmington than in many other cities and towns.

The MacBick company was formerly MacAllister-Bicknell, and was founded by a man named Alfred Bicknell, who sold out about three years ago.

Twenty four of the employees bought the stock, Cronin being one of those 24, and Bicknell is now the proprietor of an inn in Fitzwilliam, New Hampshire, where, incidentally, a wholly owned subsidiary of the MacBick company is located - the Elliot Laboratories.

The Elliot Laboratories makes disposable plastic items for hospital use, and the parent company makes items of steel and other materials, for hospitals.

The MacBick people have their own engineering and designing department, and all manufacturing is to be done at the new Woburn St plant - with about 50% of the 15 thousand square feet to be devoted to manufacturing.

There are 31 employees. The company was formerly located at 243 Broadway, in Cambridge.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS PROGRAM ON JAN 13

Catholic Daughters of America is to present a program on the Missionary Society of St James the Apostle, on January 13th, at

The program will consist of slides, with a comentary by John Murphy, of the Boston Record-American.

The Society is currently doing much work in South America and the program should prove to be

STARTING JANUARY 1ST 1964, THE NORTH WILMINGTON
PHARMACY is adding to its list of services the SAFEGUARD PRE-SCRIPTION SYSTEM. This system not only allows us to keep our normal records, but also to keep YOUR prescription records by FAMILY NAME. This can mean so much during the year, whether you fill one prescription or many.

At a moment's glance, you can know what you have spent on medicine . . . If you misplace your bottle or just forget it, we will know what it is . . . If your doctor or doctors want to check your previous medication due to complications or possible overdose and the label is lost, to prevent mix up for family medication . . . and at the end of the year, our record becomes yours, positive proof of your expenditure

In addition, we will also issue the proper receipts automatically each time a prescription is purchased for your own personal needs, such as insurance policies, accident cases, etc. At your convenience, please come in and register.
